READ REASONS

For the Continued Success of the SPRINGFIELD BUSINESS COLLEGE.

First.—The immediate surroundings of the College are of the Highest Moral Character. In the same building is the Free Public Library of the city of Springfield; here also, is the Library and Reading Room of the Young Men's Christian Association; all of these are free, and open to our students at any time. In addition to these, in the same building, are the Bath Rooms and Gymnasium of the Association, and our young men can have all the advantages of both, for six months, for the mere nominal sum of three dollars. They afford safe and convenient places of resort for the young men of the College, evenings and Saturdays.

Second.—This is a tried and well established institution. It has been organized Twenty-five years. The public has confidence in the thoroughness of the instruction, and in the government of the institution. Business men make frequent calls upon us for clerical help.

Third.—The great superiority of our system of "Actual Business Practice," is acknowledged by all who are acquainted with the different systems in use, and we earnestly solicit a critical comparison of our system with that of any other in use in this State, by all persons who desire to attend the best Commercial School. The decision has been so frequently in our favor that we are justified in believing that it will continue to be so in nearly every instance.

Fourth. The proprietors of this institution are teachers of many years experience. Mr. S. Bogardus is a graduate of the State Normal University, and holds a State Teacher's Certificate. He has had about twenty years' experience in business college work. Mr. H. B. Chicken has made a special study of Commercial Branches and how to teach them. He has taken special courses at Cleveland, Ohio, under P. R. Spencer, and at Philadelphia under J. E. Soule, two of the best penmen in the world. He taught at Jacksonville eight years, having charge of the advanced department of Business Practice and Penmanship during the last five years. Both of these gentlemen give their undivided time and attention to this one school. They are determined that this institution shall as completely command the confidence and respect of all Central Illinois as it now does of Springfield and Sangamon county. They give instruction daily in all the more important classes, and all the work of the College is under their immediate daily supervision.

We ask every person, either young man, young woman, parent or guardian, to candidly consider the above statements; we have made them after careful consideration, and we believe that they are facts that will bear the most searching investigation.

For further information address the proprietors.

Sangamon Fair.

THE grounds, buildings, etc., of the Sangamon Fair Association are complete, and in convenience and architectural beauty the improvements surpass those of any similar organization in the United States.

The grounds and buildings are admirably adapted for the purposes of holding an exhibition of this kind, and for natural attractions and the conveniences provided for visitors and exhibitors, are all that could be desired.

Sangamon Fair, September 10-13, 1889.

The management desires to call the attention of the public to the very complete classification of prizes and the liberal premiums provided, for the most popular and useful breeds of domestic animals, as well as for such articles as are usually displayed at agricultural and industrial exhibitions of this character.

The complete preparations made for the Springfield Exposition, to be held in connection with the Sangamon Fair, by the merchants, manufacturers, artisans, artists, etc., of this city, insure an attraction well worthy of the attention of all who desire to keep pace with this progressive period.

The two lines of street cars and the two lines of railroad will enable parties to go from the center of the city, or return quickly from the Exposition and Fair, at all hours of the day, at the lowest excursion rates.

The rates granted by railroad officials for visitors and exhibitors attending the Fair are lower than heretofore obtained, and the cordial and hearty co-operation received from the representatives of the Springfield roads, insures the most satisfactory transportation arrangements.

Springfield is centrally located between Chicago and St. Louis, in the most productive agricultural county in the known world, with railroads diverging from it in ten different directions, thus affording exhibitors and visitors unsurpassed facilities for attending the Fair and Exposition.

The numerous attractions of the city, the places of amusement, magnificent State House, Government building, National Lincoln Monument, to say nothing of the large Iron Mill, Illinois Watch Factory, Elevator Mills, Factory of the Electric Light Company, Springfield Woolen Mills, and other large and important manufacturing establishments have conduced to make Springfield the most popular point in the West for excursionists and foreign travelers.

The large and excellent hotels of the city will provide first class accommodations at the usual rates.

Visitors who do not desire to go to the hotels, of which there are many, will find plenty of pleasant homes open at prices within the reach of all.

Springfield is noted for its hospitality, and visitors to the Fair will receive a hearty welcome and the best of treatment.

The large number of entries made for the stake and purse races, insures the presence at the coming Fair of a large number of noted trotting, running and pacing horses.

The interest manifested in the Sangamon Fair of 1889, leaves no room for doubt as to the extent and superior quality of the exhibition of Live Stock, Farm Products, etc., which will be the largest and best ever displayed in Central Illinois.

The attention of the exhibitors is invited to the liberal premiums offered by the merchants and manufacturers of Springfield.

Secretary.

TO THE FARMERS OF SANGAMON COUNTY.

For fifty years the name of BUSHER has been connected with the Harness business of Springfield, and so honest has been each transaction of the house, that farmers and others have grown to look upon the establishment as among the most thorough and reliable in the county.

In purchasing the business of C. W. Busher we deem it only necessary to state that in the future, as in the past, all purchasers can depend upon finding in stock everything in the way of

HARNESS AND SADDLERY GOODS,
 DRIVING AND RIDING OUTFITS,

Of the Best Quality. We shall also manufacture

And by the best of workmanship, honest and courteous treatment and fair prices strive to maintain the old customers of the house and add as many new ones as possible.
